

Specification of subjects in doctoral studies

Subject code: ДМ1.7121А
Study program: Forestry – Submodule 1.7. Silviculture
Type and level of studies: Doctoral studies
Subject name: Silviculture of special-purpose forests
Teacher (s): Milun R. Krstić, DSc
Associates:
Subject type: elective
ECTS: 8
Condition: No conditions.
Subject aim: A more detailed introduction of the attendants to special-purpose forests (protection forests and protected forests, forests of special importance) with the significance of these forests, their shares in Serbia and the legislation in this regard, to the natural processes taking place in these forests and forest reserves, to the need to protect biological diversity , and to the aesthetics of these forests.
Subject outcomes: Training for defining the conditions, characteristics, silvicultural needs, application of the methods of regeneration and tending of special-purpose forests in accordance with close-to-nature silviculture, with the aim of increasing the stability, sustainability, protection of biodiversity, ambiental and aesthetic-decorative value of these forests.