

Specification of subjects in Master's degree studies studies

Subject code: MIII7103
Study program: Forestry – Forestry economics and organization
Type and level of studies: Master's degree studies
Subject name: Organization and management of forest enterprises
Teacher (s): Nenad Ranković, DSc; Ljiljana Keča, DSc
Subject type: compulsory
ECTS: 7
Condition: General conditions and prescribed minimum total number of points obtained in undergraduate studies.
Subject aim: The objective of the course is to enable its students to successfully manage the business of the company, that is, in conditions of a market economy, ensure successful production and profit operations, as well as to successfully establish and manage their own companies. Through this course, students will acquire adequate knowledge that will enable them to solve problems and tasks in the production and marketing of forestry products, calculate forest value, calculate and analyze the costs of enterprises in forestry and engage assets in the production and assessment of their economic operations.
Subject outcomes: Students who have knowledge that enables them to solve problems and tasks in the production and marketing of forest products, calculate forest value, calculate and analyzing the costs of enterprises in forestry and the engagement of assets in production and assessment of their economic operations.